

Telebox

In telephony, the easiest way of billing and cashing calls without using a PC.

AUTONOMOUS TELEPHONE CALLS BILLING

Telebox

In telephony, the easiest way of billing and cashing calls without using a PC.

❖ ADVANTAGES

- Versatile and simple to operate, bill and cash calls.
- Minimum investment, does not require PC.
- Modular growth from 1 to 12 booths.
- Internet billing possibility, fax and up to 50 different items (multi-task).
- Reduced size, input and maintenance.
- Ticket issuing through an external printer.
- Remote or onsite billing update.
- Telesupervision through external modem.
- Individual password for each cashier.
- Total or partial balance by call type and different items.
- LCD display within each booth showing dialed number, time and cost of the call.
- Possibility of administrating a sale point network through a management center (Nexo Reporter software).

❖ TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

Power Supply

12 VCC/500 mA.

Data memory backup through NiCd battery.

Program data in flash memory (non-volatile).

Lines

Adaptable to telephone lines of 24, 48 or 60 VCC (fixed or mobile).

Opto-isolated line input, isolation >100 Mohms. RJ11 connector. Surge protection.

"Subscriber B answers" signal detection

16 KHz transversals, line polarity reverse, C tone or others (according to version).

Printing ports

Parallel or serial for dot-matrix or thermal printer.

Parallel to tax printer (accessory).

Insert loss

Minor to 2.5 dB between 300 and 3400 KHz a -10 dBm.

General specifications

Wall or desk mounted.

Dimensions (mm): 190 (width) x 180 (height) x 60 (length).

Weight: 1,5 Kg.

Membrane keyboard. Alphanumeric display.

❖ MOST OUTSTANDING FUNCTIONS

- Different password levels (cashier, owner, maintenance, etc).
- Opening/closing operation for each booth.
- Works with or without printer.
- Price query for destiny number.
- Two ways of cashing calls: advance payment or when the call is finished.
- Balances. Schedule control and balance presentation by the cashier.
- Balances accumulated. Sales audit.
- Phone call and balance memory backup.
- Ticket heading programming: registered name, tax number, address, etc.
- Blockage of non-scheme dialed numbers.
- "Fixed chart" mode, being the price updated manually.
- Parameters programming for equipment reported at a management center: center telephone number and booth identification.
- Tele-management: Telebox transfers and gets information from a management center.
 - Daily report to the management center in order to update billing charts, details of calls carried out, issued tickets and cash balances.
 - Mandatory report at any time by the operator.
 - Sales point administrative (it makes the equipment stop working).
 - Remote Telebox software update.
 - Pre-payment mode: telephone credit for each sales point or booth.
 - Query of sales and balances statistics via Internet.

